Hi Daniel. What is this repository's license? In server/package.json it's listed as `ISC` but there is no information regarding the `client`. Can I fork the whole repository under the `ISC` license?

Thanks, Daniel. And by the way: You've built a really nice application. I've been looking for an open source quiz engine to use in Zoom meetings. Most of them either don't allow the quiz host to start and stop questions, or they require a complicated setup with a database and user management. I really like how lightweight Quizario is. Well done, mate! Apart from applying a few tweaks, I plan to create an NPM package so that it's easy to install and use.
